DAYLILIES (Hemerocallis)

THE FLOWER SUPREME—They are fast becoming an essential part of all flower gardens. Regardless of weather extremities, they continue to grow and bloom at their appointed seasons.

ALL Daylilies listed in this section are NET and are not discounted. On many varieties, we have, this year, reduced prices. We reserve the right to fall ship any varieties we happen to become short on.

CULTURE OF DAYLILIES

TIME TO PLANT. Daylilies may be planted during the spring, summer and fall. Local conditions will govern the best time for planting, which should be done at a time when the plants will be able to establish themselves and begin prompt growth. Fall planting should be early enough to permit the plants to become well established before cold weather. Daylily roots are packed damp and should not be allowed to dry out.

PLANTING. In planting, spread the roots naturally and cover about two inches with puerized soil. The exact depth will depend on the size and type of the plant, but it is usually easy to tell from the color of the leaves the depth at which the plant has been growing. Too deep planting is injurious. Firm the soil so that roots and crown are in good contact with the soil. Water after planting if the ground is dry.

TALL BEARDED IRIS

All iris in this list are subject to 25% discount unless marked NET. All orders over $3.50 Postpaid.

CULTURE

Tall Bearded Iris will give excellent results in any fertile soil with reasonable drainage and exposure to sunlight. Whether the soil is neutral, slightly acid or calcareous makes little or no difference. Plants should be set out so that the rootstock (rhizome) is barely underground. If soil is dry when planting is done a thorough soaking is beneficial but after the plants become established they require very little moisture after blooming. When the plants become too crowded or decrease in their flowering, division is likely necessary. Bearded iris will grow but not bloom properly in a shaded location.

(Shipment of Iris starts July 1)

Name of variety is followed by the name of the originator and the year of introduction. Season of bloom is indicated by the initials E-M-L signifying early, mid-season, or late. Height is given in inches.

SPURIA IRIS

Don't be content with Bearded Iris alone!

The Spurias, sometimes called "Butterfly Iris", resemble the Dutch irises which are extensively used by florists, but the flowers are large, and numerous blossoms are borne on the three to four foot stalks, making a very showy display in the garden, and are superb as cut flowers, as they are not as fragile as the bearded iris and keep for days. The color range is wide, ranging from near white and creamy-yellow to a deep golden yellow, and from lovely old-gold shades down to a deep golden brown. There are lavender-blues and true blues and a mixed planting is indeed a very beautiful sight. The browns are quite new and unusually interesting.

Spurias require very little care, and can be left in a permanent location, so should be given room in which to grow. They thrive in full sun or partial shade, and do best if kept well watered in the early spring and throughout the blooming season.

Keep very moist until established. Perfectly hardy, they are very worthwhile additions to an garden. Spurias bloom at the same time as the late flowering bearded iris.

Spurias will be shipped only in the fall at the proper planting time. In planting them be sure to cover rhizomes three to four inches.

PEONIES

The most beautiful of all perennials. Plant them as you would a tree to enjoy the rest of your days.

PEONY CULTURE

We begin digging Peonies about the first of September and continue until cold weather.

Peonies prefer a rich, well drained soil and full sun. Many types of heavy clay soils grow good Peonies. Do not plant too near trees or shrubs. The eyes or buds should be covered from one to two inches. Planting too deep will prevent bloom. Use fertilizers sparingly, bone meal one year, hard wood ashes the next, two handfuls per large plant worked in topsoil six inches from the stems. The use of animal fertilizer is dangerous, as the bacteria of decay which makes it valuable, may also in time attack the Peony root and cause a damaging rot.

Our prices are for standard three to five eye divisions.
